Keep everyone on the same page—even when they're not in the same place

Working efficiently on files and documents can be difficult in a world where more people are working remotely, and online meetings are the norm. Does your business ever have challenges like these?

- Only one person at a time can work on a document or file.
- Important information gets lost in long email chains.
- People waste time working on old versions of files.
- You can't control how files get shared.
- It's challenging to share information with customers and vendors.

Boost teamwork and productivity

People thrive when they can connect, share ideas, and achieve goals in a common space. With shared documents and files always available, your team can keep projects moving forward from wherever they work. With Microsoft Teams Essentials, you can:

- Co-author documents, presentations, and spreadsheets during a meeting.
- Maintain access to the latest versions of files at your fingertips.
- Improve security with control over how files are shared.
- Empower employees with tools that are easy to learn and use.
- Share and communicate more securely with customers and vendors.

Enhance security

Sharing files via email can be convenient—but it lacks security controls. With Teams Essentials, you can:

- Control file access and sharing by person or device.
- Keep files in one highly-secure online location rather than spread across email accounts and devices.
- Simplify security controls across the business and configure them from one place.
- Access ongoing support from a trusted partner to handle system updates and maintenance

Work how you want

You don't have to change how you do things to use Teams Essentials. You can:

- Connect with your existing email and calendar solutions, including Gmail and Exchange.
- Use the Microsoft Office desktop versions you already have.
- Connect seamlessly with hundreds of popular business apps like Asana, Trello, Adobe, and more.

Help everyone fully participate from anywhere with Microsoft Teams Essentials

Collaboration is more than what you see in a meeting. It is being able to work together, chat together, organize together, and share together. Now you can do that all-in-one place with Microsoft Teams Essentials.

Get everyone on the same page by implementing Microsoft Teams Essentials for your business today.
